What Came of Feeding and Clothing a Foot-sore Tramp.

National Associated Press to the Star.

WASHINGTON, IOWA, Sept. 26.—L. R. Brown, a young physician, formerly of Shelby, Mo., and now of this place, recently came into a fortune.

The only way left was to walk. He landed in Shelbyville, foot-sore, weary and hungry; shoes worn out, and feet all blistered. The first man he met was young Brown who took him to a hotel, got him his supper, gave him an old pair of shoes, and money to take him to Kansas City. Stakeholder left Missouri, went to South America, struck a streak of luck and amassed $11,000. A few weeks ago he came to San Francisco, where he died, leaving his little fortune to his benefactor.

An ordinance to establish the grade of Grand street from Gilbert avenue to Nassau street, was transmitted to Council.

The Committee on Bridges recommended that the bridges over the canal at Browne street be improved. Recommendation approved and the Supervisor instructed to prepare specifications.

The Supervisor of Repairs was instructed to lay two cross-roads at the intersection of Baymiller street and Central avenue.

Bids for furnishing cast-iron water pipe and special castings needed by the city from October 1st, 1879, to October 1st, 1880, were opened as follows:

R. D. Wood & Co., Philadelphia: For straight pipe, $45 per ton; for special castings and curved pipe, $70 per ton.

HURRYING HEELS.

Still Tossing Tanbark Around the Track.

Rowell Nursing a Bad Case of Cramps.

Pedestrianism.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Interest in the foot race at Madison Square Garden continues to increase. At two o'clock this morning Rowell, Hazel, Guyon, Ennis, Merritt, Krohne, Taylor and Federmyer were off the track, and Weston and Merritt doing work. Weston had been walking a steady pace of about 4 1/2 miles an hour, and Merritt had been going at a slightly greater rate of speed. Hart had gone off in the preceding hour.

Guyon, who went off the track at 11:30, returned at 2:30. Merritt went off at 2:12, and was gone one hour and three-quarters. At 3 o'clock Merritt, who had been racing with Hazel for three days, was over two miles ahead, and the interest of the morning centered on their contest. The next hour saw most of the men on the track. Hart appeared at 3:15, after two hours' rest. Rowell, who had gone off at 1:07, returned at 3:15 and settled down to a steady gait.

Krohne appeared at 3:21, having had a rest of two hours and five minutes. Ennis came on at 3:29, after a rest of three and a half hours. Hazel, who had disappeared at 11:53, turned up at 3:45 and was followed by Merritt at 3:57. Weston left the track as he finished his miles on the track at 4 o'clock. At 4:30 Guyon was passed by the men ran one hundred yards at a racing pace. Merritt and Hazel, about the same time, got together and followed each other, first one and then the other leading, lap after lap, for several miles, neither gaining.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock Hazel offered Merritt a number of chances to have a brush, but they were refused, and finally at 6 o'clock he started off on a swift run on his own account, making 6 miles, the 37th to 38th inclusive, in the remarkable time of 9:08, 8:18, 8:02, 7:47, 7:30 and 8:37. This enabled him to pass Merritt at the end of his 38th mile, leaving Merritt at 383 miles and 7 laps, or 1 lap behind. Federmyer completed his 300 miles at 6:47, and was cheered. Weston who came in at the same moment met with no recognition.

During last night a man threw a brickbat at Hazel. He was promptly arrested, when he was identified as Eph Holland, of Cincinnati.

ROWELL TAKES THE CRAMPS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Rowell has been off the track since shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. He is suffering from violent cramps. Dr. Mott and Rowell's physician are in attendance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—3 P. M.—Dr. Mott has just left Rowell's tent, and says Rowell had a fit and was in convulsions. He denies that Rowell was poisoned, as was reported.

Rowell was again on the track at 1:20 p. m. and going slowly around. He looks broken down. The doctor says he has been out of his head, but is now getting all right. The excitement continues.

DENVER, COLORADO, Sept. 26.—A special to the Tribune gives some startling details of the Indian outrages in New Mexico.

The women and children were most horribly and disgustingly mutilated, iron bars being used for the purpose. Twenty-five men, women and children were among the wounded in the corn field. In the fight twenty horses were killed.

Raiders are apprehended at the Shakspeare mines, and the citizens of the territory are in a terrible state of alarm. The Indians are all well mounted, well armed and well supplied with ammunition.
